

UNIVERSITY OF THE PHILIPPINES
DILIGENT STUDY AND RESEARCH
FOR YOUR BETTER FUTURE

THE POLITICAL SYSTEM - 1

1. The political system is a set of institutions, processes, and actors that govern a country. It includes the government, the judiciary, and the media.

This is a sample text for the document.

2. The political system is a set of institutions, processes, and actors that govern a country. It includes the government, the judiciary, and the media.

3. The political system is a set of institutions, processes, and actors that govern a country. It includes the government, the judiciary, and the media.

4. The political system is a set of institutions, processes, and actors that govern a country. It includes the government, the judiciary, and the media.

5. The political system is a set of institutions, processes, and actors that govern a country. It includes the government, the judiciary, and the media.

6. The political system is a set of institutions, processes, and actors that govern a country. It includes the government, the judiciary, and the media.

7. The political system is a set of institutions, processes, and actors that govern a country. It includes the government, the judiciary, and the media.

8. The political system is a set of institutions, processes, and actors that govern a country. It includes the government, the judiciary, and the media.

9. The political system is a set of institutions, processes, and actors that govern a country. It includes the government, the judiciary, and the media.

10. The political system is a set of institutions, processes, and actors that govern a country. It includes the government, the judiciary, and the media.

11. The political system is a set of institutions, processes, and actors that govern a country. It includes the government, the judiciary, and the media.

12. The political system is a set of institutions, processes, and actors that govern a country. It includes the government, the judiciary, and the media.

13. The political system is a set of institutions, processes, and actors that govern a country. It includes the government, the judiciary, and the media.

14. The political system is a set of institutions, processes, and actors that govern a country. It includes the government, the judiciary, and the media.

15. The political system is a set of institutions, processes, and actors that govern a country. It includes the government, the judiciary, and the media.

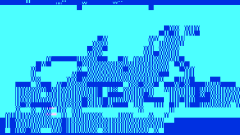

16. The political system is a set of institutions, processes, and actors that govern a country. It includes the government, the judiciary, and the media.

17. The political system is a set of institutions, processes, and actors that govern a country. It includes the government, the judiciary, and the media.

18. The political system is a set of institutions, processes, and actors that govern a country. It includes the government, the judiciary, and the media.

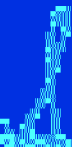

19. The political system is a set of institutions, processes, and actors that govern a country. It includes the government, the judiciary, and the media.

20. The political system is a set of institutions, processes, and actors that govern a country. It includes the government, the judiciary, and the media.

100% Satisfaction

Approved by:

Dr. _____
Dean

Prepared by: _____
Date: _____