

Instructional Design

Instructional Design is the systematic process of analyzing learning objectives, identifying learning needs, and designing learning experiences that facilitate the acquisition of knowledge, skills, and attitudes.

